TWFF Business Update

Thanks to all who participated, by email or at the September outing, in the voting to amend the club's Articles of Incorporation and to establish club bylaws. Our 501-c-3 nonprofit application to the IRS is now complete and we are awaiting their determination. Thanks also to everyone who returned the outing questionnaire and/or participated in the planning meeting at Homer Martin Ranch. After new officers are inducted, we will be looking for volunteers for the various appointed positions: TWFF historian, newsletter editor, and web coordinator/webmaster. ## 2003 Officer Nominations

Our nominating committee – Constance Whiston, Coco Davenport, Audrey Ambrose and Frances Hamm—have been hard at work recruiting candidates for the upcoming election in January. This year we need to elect a new president and second vice president (membership), as well as three trustees who will participate in board activities and help guide the club.

Texas Women Fly Fishers at Fairfield Lake November 8-10, 2002

TWFF will join other Texas fly fishing clubs at Fairfield Lake State Park for a weekend of fishing, socializing with other fly fishers from across the state, and chowing down on a wonderful catered dinner by the Lonestar Dutch Oven Group. Fairfield Lake State Park is located close to IH 45, about 90 miles southeast of Dallas. See the TPWD website for more information, <http://www.tpwd.state.tx.us/park/fairfiel/fairfiel.htm>.

Fairfield Lake is a power generation lake with bass, perch, catfish, red drum, and tilapia. It is ideal for canoe and kayak fishing, as well as kick boats, float tubes, and bass boats. There is a small area suitable for bank or wade fishing. The shoreline tends to be a bit soft and weedy (all the better for bass to hide in), so boots or other suitable footwear is advisable. TPWD Fishing Report (10-23-02) says the black bass are biting above the grass off the points. Take a look at these Fairfield Lake fishing records below, all set by Billy Autery:

Bass	Largemouth	4.34	20	06/01/99	Billy Autery	Betts Fancy Popper
Bluegill		0.37	8	07/18/01	Billy Autery	yellow wooly spin
Catfish	Channel	11.25	28.5	01/05/01	Billy Autery	clouser
Crappie	Black	2.02	15.25	03/18/02	Billy Autery	clouser minnow
Sunfish	Hybrid	0.71	9	06/03/99	Billy Autery	Betts Fancy Popper
Sunfish	Longear	0.1	5.25	07/26/99	Billy Autery	goldbead pheasant tail
Sunfish	Redear	0.44	8.5	07/26/99	Billy Autery	conehead royal coachman
Tilapia	Blue	4	16.75	03/12/01	Billy Autery	black stone fly

Reservations

It's not too late to join us! If you haven't done it, make your dinner reservations with Kathy Goodlett ASAP so Ann Carr and the Lone Star Dutch Oven Society know how many folks they need to feed! If you are tent camping, join other TWFF members in a shared spot (water available, but no electric). Contact Kathy Goodlett, kgoodlett@mesquiteisd.org, phone 214/327-4285, concerning dinner and joint camping. Motel information is available on the TWFF website. There will be fly fishers from all over the state, and if you haven't had the great pleasure of meeting Billy Autery, well, that's his home territory, he'll likely be there.

Activities & Schedule

TWFF Club Headquarters will be in the Springfield Campground, the first campground as you enter the park, we hope on the water! We will put a notice on the board at the entrance ranger station – check the board when you register. Come by the campground on Friday evening to enjoy our campfire (bringing a chair and some extra firewood is a good idea) and make fishing plans for Saturday morning. Dutch oven dinner will be about 6-6:30 Saturday evening. There will be a brief officers meeting on Sunday morning at 9:00 in Audrey's camper, all members are welcome to attend.

In addition to scheduled activities, the ranch is a wonderful place for nature walks, hiking and bird watching. Share your favorite pot-luck dishes at evening meals in the Lodge and join us around the fire to swap fish tales.

The ranch has nine heated cabins that will book quickly. Tent camping is also available. The rustic Lodge House provides a fully equipped kitchen, dining room, social room and game room. Outside fire pits provide a great place for evening socializing around a fire. See reservation details below.

Like our outings?

Love those auctions & raffles?

You can help us make them better!

Contribute auction or raffle items for the January outing – this is a great way to recycle gear, books, videos, etc. Maybe you could tie some flies, or perhaps you know of a local outfitter or guide who would contribute gear or services. Contact Frances Hamm, fhamm@austin.rr.com.

Attending the January Outing?

A few hands are needed to help with the auction and raffle. Volunteers are needed to help set up on Saturday morning (8 am-ish), to help with drawings at dinner, and to help pack it up afterwards. Contact Frances Hamm, fhamm@austin.rr.com. Also, a few hands are needed to help straighten up the lodge on Sunday morning after the business meeting. ## TWFF Goes to Expo

Thanks and kudos to Vice President Kathy Goodlett and the volunteers she organized to represent TWFF at the 2003 TPWD Expo in early October: Sheila Anderson, Ann Carr, Beverly Clegg, Coco Davenport, Debbie Galloway, Joy Emshoff, Lavene Jones, Karen Mitchell, Mary Rohrer, and Kerri Stephenson. Our Historian, Coco, brought the TWFF scrapbook and display board that she has maintained for the club to show Expo visitors what TWFF is about. Kathy reports, “The EXPO experience gathered us 7 new members and we sold a few t-shirts and hats. Also, Dallas Fly Fishers donated a fly rod (no reel) for us to either use as an auction item or to teach or loan for instructional purposes. So all in all, a good and productive weekend. It was hot. They must have signed up a 100 people to learn to fly cast because the casting instructors never sat down. WHEW! It would have really been nice to have someone in our exhibit teaching kids to tie flies—it really drew the kids and adults; it was a good way to spend time while they waited to learn to cast...we need to find someone for next year.”

From the President

Constance Whiston

Vice President Kathy Goodlett organized members from Texas Women Fly Fishers to tend our info table at the 11th Annual Texas Wildlife Expo the first weekend of October at Texas Parks & Wildlife. The TWFF showcase was an eyecatcher thanks to the smiling faces of our zealous members and the beautiful display board that Historian, Coco Davenport created. There were 10 other FFFSC clubs represented in the tent with a mini Bass Pro retail store in the center. What is FFFSC?

All the fly fishing clubs in the state of Texas except one (GRTU) belong to the Federation of Fly Fishers, Southern Council. Texas Women Fly Fishers is a member of FFFSC. All the FFFSC Texas fly fishing clubs are listed on the Southern Council web site: <http://www.southerncouncilfff.org/> Did you also know that every year the Texas Wildlife Expo occurs on the exact same weekend as the FFFSC Conclave in Mountain Home, Arkansas? The Conclave is a gathering of all the clubs in the 8 states participating in the Southern Council. So while TWFF was shinning at Expo some of our flyfishing brothers and sisters were at Conclave. Each year FFFSC hosts a banquet on Saturday night at Conclave with the President of the Southern Council handing out awards for the “Man of the Year”, “Woman of the Year”, “Junior Tyer of the Year”, “Conservationist of the Year” etc. While we worked at Expo, Abby with Dallas Fly Fishers, came up to me and said she could have our friend Diane call us on Sunday morning and let us know who won. Bright and early Sunday morning Abby received the call at the Expo tent. Young Jesse Huth from Central Texas Fly Fishers won “Junior Tyer of the Year” and Diane Blair from Dallas Fly Fishers won “Woman of the Year”. Not only did they win, each nominee from Texas won! It was a landslide for Texans! This is hot news because each year Arkansas and Missouri usually take the awards. Hooray for Texas fly fishers! It was thrilling to be standing in front of the TWFF table at Expo, experiencing the terrific reunion of fly fishing friends under the big top and hear Abby say “It’s a Texas Grand Slam at Conclave!”

If you are not a member of the Federation of Fly Fishers Southern Council, I encourage you to join. You will receive the Long Casts newsletter and meet fly fishing friends from all over the state and participate in the nomination of members for 2003. You may even choose to be the person who nominates Texas Women Fly Fishers as “Club of the Year”. We certainly deserve it!

I also encourage each of you to join your local fly fishing club. When you open the Southern Council web site, look for “Local Clubs” listed on the left side of the home page. Open “Local Clubs” and find the fly fishing club in your city. Visit with President Clay Gill in San Antonio with Alamo Fly Fishers. He is a very energetic and helpful fly fisher. Go to a Texas Fly Fishers meeting in Houston and look up Troy Miller and Tom Lyons, both excellent casting instructors. By the way, Texas Fly Fishers offers “The University of Fly Fishing” where you can learn fly fishing from A to Z. Kerrville has Mike Andrews and Guy Harrison who will welcome you into Hill Country Fly Fishers. Conservation Officer, Kelly Warren and Cheryl Ferrell are with Fort Worth Fly Fishers, they can teach you how to cast and tie. Go to the Dallas Fly Fishers and meet the gang at the “Road Kill Round Table”. There you’ll find fly fishing & tying enthusiasts Abby, Diane and Annie. The Texas club list is extensive and the members are your future friends. You want to fish East Texas, talk to Walter McClendon, you want to fish the Brazos or Whitney area, talk to Johnny Walker. Get the picture? Join the Southern Council and you’ll find fly fishing friends everywhere.

On November 8-10,th Texas Women Fly Fishers and all Texas fly fishing clubs are gathering at Fairfield State Park for fun, fishing and food. Saturday night the Lone Star Dutch Oven Society cooks up a multicourse food extravaganza you won’t want to miss. Look on our web site for all the details and come meet your brothers and sisters in FFFSC.

Guadalupe River Update from GRTU

GRTU Plans to Restock Guadalupe Fishery This Winter

At the last board meeting, the GRTU board voted unanimously to stock trout this season. Stocking will be delayed until it is deemed safe for stocking personnel and trout to reenter the river. The river has been closed to fishing, swimming, and tubing since the flood occurred. In late September, the flow out of Canyon Lake was lowered and the portion of the river from First Crossing to Loop 337 (closest to New Braunfels) was opened to recreational use. GRTU President Lefty Ray Chapa reports:

What we are waiting for is for FEMA to award the river cleanup contract and the actual work to begin. Once the debris from the river has been removed and it has been deemed safe, we will open the lease areas.”

The other situation we are waiting for is for the river and Canyon Lake to get cold again. The water coming over the spillway raised the temperature in the river above the threshold that trout can withstand. Also the entire water in the lake including the cold water on the bottom of the lake also passed through downstream.

If we were to jump the gun and stock around Thanksgiving, it is possible the trout would not survive because the water coming out of the dam would be too warm. Once the cold water temperatures have been reestablished, we will stock the trout.

With your help we will be entering a reconstruction phase in trying to get the trout fishery going again. The hatchery is fully aware of what we are facing and are ready to supply trout as soon as we call. As I mentioned above, we will stock once it is safe for our members and the trout to reenter the river.

Check the GRTU website (grtu.org) for the latest developments.

More on the Guadalupe

The Comal County Engineer's Office website <http://cceo.org/> presents a photographic journey down the new Spillway Gorge created by the early summer floods out of Canyon Lake. This area is currently off limits to the public due to fragile banks and unstable rock left by the flooding. In just one flood the river has carved a gorge that might otherwise have taken thousands of years to create.

Also of interest on the CCEO site is a map showing the length of time it takes floodwater to travel down the Guadalupe. See "Moving at the Speed of Water" on the CCEO home page.

Fly Fishing Miscellanea from Around the State

(If you hear of events that may be of interest to TWFF members, please forward them to the editor. Due to our bimonthly schedule, a bit of advance notice is useful.)

From AI Crise: Here is a site you can buy from 'Cheap' on fly fishing goodies.

http://gofishin.com/?cart\_id=564027.37501&mgf=2110000000&main\_cat=460 or www.gofishin.com

Dave Combs has been doing this for a few years and what he sells is things that came from close-outs and buy outs out of business companies and such. Great service but understand I am not pushing the site just offering some good prices. Watch out for line and other stuff that might have been in a window and be sun damaged. like mono and fly lines. This is where I get my school supplies too. In three years I have only had to return one time. (A fly line that was melted.) Hope this helps you get the things that make Fly Fishing so much fun.

New Texas Beach and Bay Access Guide from General Land Office is online on their website, <http://www.glo.state.tx.us/coastal/access/guide.html>. This guide highlights the five areas that make up the Texas coast: Southeast Texas, Houston-Galveston, Golden Crescent, Coastal Bend, and the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Each section provides a brief description of the topography and primary recreation activities of each county, and includes location maps and recreational grids. Almost 360 access points to Texas bays and the Gulf of Mexico within the 18 counties in the coastal management zone are included.

From Austin Fly Fishers: This year's banquet is Saturday, November 16, at Zilker Clubhouse. Drinks are served at 5:30, followed by a BBQ dinner at 6:00. Our guest speaker is Doc Thompson, "New Mexico's High Country Angler". Our auctioneer this year is Billy Higgins, and there will be oodles of great items for auction. We'll also have a door prize for one lucky attendee. Check our web site for further details, <http://www.austinflyfishers.com/>.

Austin Orvis Club Appreciation Night. On November 14 from 6p.m. to 8p.m. the Austin Orvis store will host an evening of shopping, camaraderie, snacks, and beverages (including adult beverages) for members and family of local sporting clubs. Orvis will provide a certificate for $25 off a $50 or more purchase during this event.
